

Student Behavioral Progress Report

Dear Parent/Guardian,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to share Jack Black's behavioral progress for the month of November. This progress has been tracked through our in-class Positive Pathways Board, which encourages positive behavior and decision making.

This tracking has been performed through a system of positive and negative taps based on your student's in-class behavior. Positive taps are given for good choices, cooperation, participation, and based on the applied character equations for this month which are: Patience, Excellent Senses, Perception. Negative taps are given for moments that require redirection or reminders.

Below, you will find charts and graphs that track your student's behavior throughout the month. These visual summaries help us see how classroom behavior has changed throughout the month.

Behavior Summary

Metric	Count	Percentage
Positive Taps	3	60.0%
Negative Taps	2	40.0%
Total Taps	5	100%

Daily Breakdown

Date	Positive	Negative
2025-11-11	3	2

Closing Remarks:

Jack Black has demonstrated good progress this month. Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,
Teacher
